Satellite Dominates News Angles

PARIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Soviet earth satellite has jolted the press of Western Europe from its orbit of assailing U.S. policy. After long second thought, these newspapers once more looking to Washington.

The criticism of segregation troubles in Little Rock and the editorial hangover from the U.S. policy of supporting Egypt in the Suez crisis have been eclipsed by the man-made moon circling the earth.

Prediction

The German press predicted the United States soon will overtake the Soviet Union in the fields of satellites and guided missiles.

The British press urged a pooling of Western brains and know-how to meet the Soviet challenge. Italian newspapers took a similar stand.

Even the French press, only lately accusing the United States of betraying France in Algeria, appeared to feel that criticizing the United States now is a dangerous luxury.

Thus Thierry Maulnier, a writer who has been particularly sour on U.S. policy in Algeria, says in Le Figaro that the Russians were first with an earth satellite "because the Soviet people lack pots and pans and shoes."

He commented: "It should not be said that the baby moon could be launched 'although' the Soviet people lack pots and pans and shoes but 'because' they lack them. Only the United States can do everything at the same time."

Another critic, Aureole, predicted the United States "no matter how hesitant its policy, how vague its conceptions of the best interest of its allies... will not break Atlantic solidarity." It was commenting on the possibility of a bilateral Soviet-U.S. talks on satellite or missile control.

In London, the Daily Telegraph asked: "What could not the Americans, British, French and their European allies achieve if they were to work together, instead of separately, on the great military and scientific projects of our time?"

New Charge Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) declared today that scandalous and shocking situations developed in James R. Hoffa's election as president of the Teamsters Union.

What if anything may result from this latest charge by the senator remained to be seen.

McClellan said the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee, of which he is chairman, will continue its study of Hoffa and his union. Then he added:

"This is also a matter for the courts."

Hoffa was overwhelmingly elected president of the Teamsters in convention last week at Miami Beach, Fla., succeeding Dave Beck.

The Senate committee yesterday received a box full of records from the convention's Credentials Committee. Joseph Konohe, secretary of the Credentials Committee, said the papers had been thrown out by a hotel maid, who later died.

Equalization To Miss '58 Tax Duplicate Braves Cop First World Series In 43 Years

Burdette Hurls Third Victory, 5-0

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Lew Burdette became the first World Series pitcher in 52 years to pitch two shutouts as his 5-0 seven-hitter over the New York Yankees today gave the Milwaukee Braves a world championship on the very first try.

The fidgety righthander touched off a roar that echoed from Yankee Stadium to delirious Wisconsin Avenue in Milwaukee when he retired Bill Showron the last Yankee batter, to end the seventh game.

Not since Christy Mathewson threw three shutouts for the New York Giants against the Philadelphia A's in 1905 had a man blanked the enemy twice in series play.

Burdette, an ex-Yankee, hadn't allowed a run in 24 2-3 innings.

Death Notice

YANKS, New York Yankees, in New York City, Thursday, October 10, 1957, unexpectedly. Viewers (TV) and friends attended memorial services immediately after the sudden demise at Yankee Stadium. Interment in the Bronx, N. Y. No viewing. BRAVES while twisting the proud New Yorkers around his little finger. As soon as Eddie Mathews gloved Skowron's hard smash down the third-base line and stepped on third for the force play that ended the game, a swarm of cheering boys and men surged onto the field. Mathews leaped high in the air to touch off the wildest victory celebration in many a year.

Fans crowded around the Braves' dugout and the wildly happy Braves had to be escorted to their quarters by a guard of Yankee Stadium police.

It was the first time since 1948 that the World Series had gone to a team from outside New York as the westward movement chipped away another hunk of the big city's baseball prestige.

The rawboned gent from the hill country of West Virginia survived a first-inning scare and wobbled again in the ninth when the desperate Yankees loaded the bases.

Singles

Singles by Gil McDougald, Jerry Coleman and Tommy Byrne put three men on with two out in the ninth as tension mounted. The roof blew off when Skowron rapped sharply to Mathews for the force that opened every beer tap in Milwaukee.

Four big runs in a third inning split in which the gates were opened, ironically, by an error by Tony Kubek, a Milwaukee boy, sealed the Yanks' doom. It hardly mattered, when Del Crandall slammed a home run just beyond Enos Slaughter's reach into the lower left-field stands in the eighth.

Only once before has a Brave team won the series. That was way back in 1914 when George Stallings' miracle men upset the Philadelphia A's. That bunch of Braves, as well as the 1948 National League champs who bowed to Cleveland, represented Boston. This was the very first for Milwaukee, which has been a baseball gold mine ever since owner Lou Perini moved west from Boston (Please turn to page 10)

Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Brownell, acting on authority given by Congress a month ago, swept aside the practice of 15 years standing.

Dulles and Brownell ruled that in most cases foreigners visiting the United States for a year or less can be given visas without first submitting to fingerprinting.

Protests

The move seemed clearly aimed at meeting bitter protests from such countries as Russia which have denounced fingerprinting as a device to discourage visitors to the United States.

Soviet Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev bitterly complained about the fingerprinting requirement to President Eisenhower during the Geneva summit conference in 1955.

Khrushchev contended fingerprinting should be reserved for criminals. As long as the requirement remained, he said, Russians would refuse to visit the U. S.

Famous Attorney To Address Chest Dinner

ONE OF Pennsylvania's most famous attorneys and civic leaders — Louis George Feldmann of Hazleton — will be the guest speaker at Monday night's Community Chest kickoff dinner in Stroudsburg.

The annual Chest dinner is donated by the Penn-Stroud Hotel in memory of its late owner, Gerald P. O'Neill, one of the Chest's earliest and greatest backers in Monroe County.

Present for the Monday night dinner will be Chest division leaders, members of the Chest board, executives of the 12 agencies supported by the Chest and workers in the present campaign.

Entertainment at the dinner will be provided by an "outstanding group of local performers under the skilled direction of Ernest Farmer," according to Clifford Cramer, 1957 campaign chairman. The second major address of the evening will be delivered by E. Holt Wyckoff, Chest president.

Monday night's program will be kept "short and snappy," Cramer said this week. "We want to give every one of our workers an indication of the spirit they need to make the drive a success. But we want to make our points quickly and with dramatic emphasis without letting the "show" become overlong," he said.

Rehearsals by the group of entertainers have been going on for several weeks. They will be dubbed "The 12 Feathers" and their act will include singing and dancing, a Chest spokesman said.

The guest speaker is a man whose talent in addressing groups has carried him to hundreds of other communities. He is a native of Wilkes-Barre, was educated in St. Mary's public schools in that city and at the University of Pennsylvania (BS in Economics) and Duquesne University (Bachelor of Laws).

He served in the U. S. Marine Corps during World War Two. Returning home he became highly active in veterans affairs. He has served on the All-American Conference to Combat Communism and has been chairman of the National Loyalty Day Committee for eight years. In February, 1956, he received as chairman of the Loyalty Day Committee, the Freedoms Foundation George Washington Honor Medal for the V.F.W.

He is president of Hazleton Mental Health Inc., and is a member of the board of the Child Guidance Clinic of Hazleton. Feldmann was bond chairman during the Greater Hazleton area's drive to raise $750,000 for industrial development.

United States Offers To Enter Space Missile Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 10 (AP)—The United States offered today to enter immediately into multination talks on control of outer space missiles. The offer was ignored by the Soviet Union, which accused the West of trickery in disarmament negotiations.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge warned the United Nations "we must not miss this chance" to harness for peace outer space missiles "which can blow us to bits."

But Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, speaking after Lodge in the U.N.'s 82-nation Political Committee, made no specific mention of control of missiles. He declared the Western Powers are "still unwilling to reach any agreement."

Addition

He added: "For that reason we call upon the governments of the United States, Britain and France to accept an honest and mutually acceptable agreement. It is time to put trickery aside and stop making a good face when the game is lost."

Gromyko made only brief reference to the intercontinental missile which the Soviet Union now claims as part of its arsenal. He called attention to the growing power of atomic and hydrogen bombs and the appearance of "intercontinental weapons, capable of reaching any objective on earth."

Faubus yesterday showed newsman photographs which he said depicted soldiers and officers "sauntering through the shorts-clad high school girls during their gym class." He said he regarded this as indiscreet on the part of the troops.

Shorts-clad girls again went through gym classes on the playgrounds back of the school during the day. A few soldiers and officers went about duties in the immediate vicinity, without, however, seeming to draw any attention from the girls.

Armstrong Praises Ike

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10 (AP)—Negro trumpeter Louis Armstrong, discussing integration troubles at Little Rock, said today of President Eisenhower: "That man has a soul."

"He has done as much as Lincoln did and more than any other president between them did," said Armstrong, who in the past has been critical of the administration.

Race Issue Subsides Into Deadlock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Central High School racial integration crisis subsided today into a silent deadlock.

Gov. Orval Faubus stood firm on his stand that no compromise is in sight unless nine Negro students are withdrawn from integrated Central classrooms.

President Eisenhower has refused to withdraw regular Army troops and federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen from the school until he is satisfied that the court-ordered Central High integration plan will be enforced by local authorities.

Both of them reaffirmed their positions yesterday. Eisenhower said he is hopeful it will soon be possible to withdraw the troops.

In Class

The six Negro girls and three boys were all in class today. As they have been since arrival of the troops, they were escorted on the campus by a detachment of guardsmen.

Faubus yesterday showed newsman photographs which he said depicted soldiers and officers "sauntering through the shorts-clad high school girls during their gym class." He said he regarded this as indiscreet on the part of the troops.

Shorts-clad girls again went through gym classes on the playgrounds back of the school during the day. A few soldiers and officers went about duties in the immediate vicinity, without, however, seeming to draw any attention from the girls.

Truckers Win Giant Civil Damage Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10 (AP)—The biggest civil damage suit ever filed in U.S. District Court here—claims and counterclaims for 370 million dollars—ended today in victory for the trucking industry over the railroads with an initial award totaling only $6.66.

U. S. Dist. Judge Thomas J. Clary, ruling in favor of 37 trucking firms in their multimillion-dollar antitrust suit against 24 railroads, dismissed entirely the railroads' countersuit.

The truckers, joined by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn., had sought 250 million dollars, contending the railroads—backed by the Eastern Railroad Presidents' Conference—had formed a conspiracy to drive them out of business.

Counter

Later, 16 railroads and the conference countered with a suit of their own seeking 120 million dollars, charging a similar conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Judge Clary said he would rule later on damages he will order paid to the truck association, indicating the amount would in no way approximate the 18 cents won by each of the individual truck firms.

The judge, noting that the PMTA bore the brunt of the fight against the railroads' campaign, said that 80 per cent of the damages he will award will be paid by the railroads and 20 per cent by Carl Byoir and Associates, Inc., New York Public Relations firm.

Though not spelling out the exact damages, Judge Clary said the railroads and Byoir would have to pay "reasonable" fees to attorneys and costs to PMTA.

Harold E. Kohn, trial lawyer for the truckers, said costs alone would be about $300,000 which would be $300,000 under the triple damage award theory.

Add to that the attorneys' fee and Kohn said the truck association award will get "well over a million dollars."

Judge Clary also issued an injunction prohibiting the railroad presidents conference, the individual railroads and the Byoir firm from continuing any of the practices complained of by the truckers.

A spokesman for the PMTA said the association considers this a key point in the court's decision.

The trial, without a jury, began a year and 10 days ago.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Congressional economists assured the nervous business community today that production will go on rising slowly for the rest of the year.

Rocket Outshines Soviet 'Moon' In American Skies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Soviet earth satellite was outshone by its third-stage rocket in American skies today. An observation team at New Haven, Conn., reported sighting the rocket, which gave the satellite the final thrust on its historic spin around the world at 5:23 a.m. EST.

Scientists credited the team with providing the first visual fix on the rocket in this country since last Friday's launching. Both the rocket and the radio-equipped globe it carried into the outer atmosphere are considered astrophysical objects as they orbit the earth.

Crew

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, director of the optical tracking crew at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said the rocket is larger than the globe and reflects a brighter light.

Hynek estimated the two satellites are about 700 miles apart, with the third-stage rocket in the lead because it has probably dropped to a smaller orbit.

"This is leading up to having two things to watch," he said. The National Security Council met for over two hours in Washington today and evidently reviewed the U.S. Missile and satellite programs.

As usual, the White House refused to give out any information on what took place at the meeting, presided over by President Eisenhower. But it was announced that in addition to the regular members of the top-level planning group the following were present:

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation; William M. Holiday, deputy assistant secretary of defense for missiles; Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, the U.S. satellite project; Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of the National Academy of Science; Donald Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament specialist.

Ball Of Fire

DENVER, Oct. 10 (AP)—A brilliant ball of fire described as being as large as a house, blazed across Western skies in the pre-dawn darkness today. It whizzed so close to a Navy plane carrying 30 persons that the pilot had to make a sharp turn to avoid a collision.

Frost Warnings

By The Associated Press
FROST warnings were issued Thursday over a broad area extending from Illinois into northern Virginia.

Breakfast Smooths Over Bad Incident

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower smoothed over an international incident today with a breakfast of bacon and eggs.

Eisenhower's guest at the White House meal was K. A. Gbedemah, who was refused service at a Dover, Del., restaurant Monday evening because he is a Negro.

Gbedemah, who is the finance minister of Ghana, the new African Negro republic, told reporters after having breakfast with Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon:

Quote

"The President expressed personal apologies over all that was done in Delaware."

Gbedemah added Eisenhower was "a little worried" about the snub. He went on to say that the invitation to breakfast "makes up for what happened" in Delaware.

Further quoting the President, Gbedemah said Eisenhower told him there are "little things like that all over the place and you don't know where they're going to blow up, or when."

'No Chance' Of Completion By March

ALL POSSIBILITY of having new tax equalization records ready in time for the 1958 tax duplicate was ruled out yesterday.

Spokesmen for J. L. Jacobs Co. told County Commissioner there was "no chance" they could have the county's new assessment records ready by mid-March. That would be the latest date for using new figures for tax duplicates which are turned over to collectors in districts.

Commission chairman John R. Lesoine then said: "Well, we may as well get started on the 1958 duplicate right away, then." Both other commissioners—Willard Quick, who with Lesoine forms the Democratic majority and W. Adolph Rake, the GOP minority member—agreed.

Assessor

Chief assessor George Brands was then ordered to begin immediate preparation of records for the new tax duplicate. The duplicate is used by borough and township taxing bodies in setting up their millage rates for the tax year.

Brands told commissioners that he and his assistants are "up to schedule on current preparation of the duplicate."

But he warned that between 7,000 and 8,000 changes must be made on the metal plates used by the county in making its tax records. These changes involve properties which have changed ownership in part or all, and changes in overall value of property due to improvements.

The assessor said that he has prepared a form which will be used to show the "old" assessment and the "corrected" assessment. These are for reference and are to be used as a method of checking available information on existing taxable property.

On hand at yesterday morning's meeting as agents of Jacobs Co. were Martin Miller, out the Chicago office and Linnal Kennedy, supervisor of the local project.

Miller started off by telling the commission that Jacobs Co. has purchased "planometric" maps of Stroud Township and the boroughs of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The new maps, he said, are made from aerial composite photographs taken during December of 1956. Older maps, he said, were made from photos taken several years ago "during the Fall when foliage obscured much of the data needed."

The more recent maps, Miller said, will provide the county with a better and more accurate system when it's completed. Turning to the question placed before him by chairman Lesoine, Miller said:

"To answer your question concerning possible turning over of material to the assessor's office in time to prepare the tax duplicate and to answer it specifically: We can't conceivably be finished by the middle of March."

Some Areas

"We could probably have some areas done—but it would not be advisable," Miller went on. Trying to use new assessments in isolated regions alone would merely add complexity to an already complicated situation, Miller said. "So far as the overall equalization program is concerned, it's far better to have a longer period for review. We want a complete and thorough system when we're finished and we can't get that if we hurry through one part of it."

Miller, Kennedy and Brands were in total agreement on one vital point which arose during discussion. Originally Jacobs Co. had based its work estimate on a probable 20,000 parcels of land in the county.

Yesterday Brands said: "The lumping of assessments is one of the evils (another: bad weather) which may slow you down and it's an evil you'll find in the present assessment system here. Your estimates have been based on 20,000 parcels—but you're going to have closer to 30,000 parcels, I think."

Kennedy and Miller agreed. Said Kennedy: "That's on the conservative side, I'd say." The "lumping" referred to means placement of a number of assessed properties owned by one person all in one assessment without differentiation.

Point

Brand also pointed out that "even if you (Jacobs Co.) had (Please turn to page three)

Date Set For Navy ROTC Exam

ADM. JAMES L. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, announced yesterday that the 12th annual national competitive examinations for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps will be given to interested high school seniors and graduates on Dec. 14.

Application forms are now available and must be received before Nov. 16, he added. Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years.

During the Summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises as a midshipman.

After completing the usual four-year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

Graduates
High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test.

Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1958. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Stokes Mill Detour To Close For 10 Working Days

STOKES MILL DETOUR will be closed effective Monday after 8 a. m.

The detour will remain shut down for "at least 10 working days" according to State Highways Department officials and Eschenbach and Sons, contractors for the new Stokes Mill bridge.

Reason for the closing: To give the contractor an opportunity to complete road approaches to the new, permanent bridge over the Brodheads at Stokes Mill.

Authorized
This shutdown is authorized by the contract for construction of the bridge. During the period the detour is closed it will be "open" on an emergency basis for use by fire trucks only, officials said.

On Monday the bridge detour at Stokes Mill will be kept open long enough to take care of morning rush hour traffic.

PROTECTION AGAINST POLIO—Patterson-Kelley Co. employees and their families, some 402 of them, received Salk anti-polio shots yesterday at the plant. It was the second in a series of three shots for most of the group. Dr. R. Frederick Jones is shown (at right) administering the vaccine with the help of nurses.

402 Receive Shots Of Polio Vaccine

SALK POLIO vaccine was administered to 402 persons yesterday at the Patterson-Kelley Co. plant in East Stroudsburg.

Receiving the shots were employees of the company, their wives and children. Included in the number was Frank L. Patterson Jr., president of the firm.

Except for about 20 persons, all of whom were reporting for their first shots, the inoculations yesterday were the second in a series of three being administered to the "P-K family."

Expenses

All expenses of the program are being borne by the company, a P-K spokesman said. First shots were given Sept. 12 and the third will be administered May 8, or approximately seven months from the date of the second shots.

Dr. R. Frederick Jones administered the vaccine yesterday. He was assisted by his wife, a registered nurse, three other nurses, Mrs. Charles Euenzi, Mrs. Fred Stine and Mrs. Russell Pritchard, and a nurse's aide, Mrs. James Coleman.

Henryville Sailor Part Of NATO Exercises

HENRYVILLE—A former local Navy man was aboard the USS Manley which recently took part in NATO's Fall exercise called Operation Strikeback.

He is Dennis Rinaldi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rinaldi.

The Manley was scheduled to leave Southampton, England, yesterday after a brief stay there at the conclusion of the exercise.

Rinaldi enlisted in the Navy in 1940 at the age of 17 and saw action in four sea battles in the Pacific.

He is married to the former Ellen Hughes, of Columbia, N. J. They have two sons and one daughter. The family resides in Pittsfield, Mass.

Bangor Man Announces Equity Action

BANGOR—Herbert F. Smith, 50, of 232 Miller St., has started an equity action in Northampton County Court to help him collect a $110,833.17 verdict awarded him May 22 by a civil court jury.

Accident

The verdict was against Joseph Falcone, Upper Mount Bethel Township, and Donald Fenner and Ruth Price McBeth, both of Bangor.

It was based on a June 4, 1950, automobile accident on Route 712 near Stier in which Smith was permanently crippled.

Commission Requests $12,000 Allocation

Replacements Necessary For Three

THE MONROE County Planning Commission will ask county commissioners to allocate $12,000 in their 1958 budget as the first step in securing detailed plans for an area-wide zoning program.

The county commission will also be asked to reappoint, or name replacements for, three members of the planning group whose terms expired on Jan. 1 of this year.

Both requests were contained in a formal motion passed at a meeting of the planning commission last night.

Letter

George T. Robinson, commission chairman, read a letter from the county commissioners in which the latter group offered clerical help to the planning board while pointing out that there was no provision in the 1957 budget for funds for the planning group's operations.

Robinson pointed out that Clifton E. Rogers, planning consultant, has estimated cost of the overall planning program at $60,000, spread over a three-year period.

Federal grants would reduce the net cost to the county to $35,000, Robinson said.

He said the estimates list expenditures of $24,000 in each of the first two years and $12,000 for the third year.

Federal grants of $12,000 each would be received in each of the first two years, with no federal aid the third year.

Robinson pointed out that annual administrative costs are not contained in the $60,000 figure.

The terms of Robinson and commission members Floyd J. DeHaven and Walter L. Schneider have expired, although they have continued to serve on the commission pending naming of replacements.

Washington Refuses To Sign Pact

BANGOR—Washington Township School Board last night refused to sign a proposed "jointure agreement."

Refusal was based on the fact that the agreement would have merged the township only with Bangor, Roseto and Lower Mount Bethel and not with a full seven-district Slate Belt Jointure.

Washington directors said they had "no desire" to join with the existing three-district Bangor Area Jointure but were only interested in becoming part of a large seven-district combination. The latter has been "in the works" for years, but is still not effected.

Same Stand

Walter Stiles and David Ettinger, two board members who had previously stated that they would sign the larger agreement, repeated last night that they "will sign any seven-district papers."

But Stiles said that the four-district group (Washington, Upper Mount Bethel, East Bangor and Portland) will not sign any agreement unless the operating costs clauses are changed. The smaller districts want operating costs paid on the basis of assessed valuation rather than on the rate of pupils each district has attending schools.

Hi-Y Club Selects Committees

FIVE COMMITTEES were appointed yesterday during a meeting of the Stroudsburg Hi-Y Club at the YMCA.

The committees include: Membership—Byron Weaver, chairman; Claus Graef and Art Kushner.

Social—Dick Strunk, chairman; Peter Fascino and Ronald Schulman.

Fund Raising—Clarence Transue, chairman; Doug Lee, William Schiebel and Tim Barnes.

Project—Jack Moore, chairman; John Durkee, Art Kushner and James Groner.

Program—Robert Argot, chairman; Douglas Albertson and John Durkee.

It was also announced during the course of the meeting that the Older Boys Conference will be held at the Stroudsburg YMCA on Dec. 7. The highlight of the conference will be a tour of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

The conference will be made up of 200 or 300 boys from Eastern Pennsylvania.

Khrushchev Belligerent

Regardless of whether Americans will share President Eisenhower's view that the Russian satellite offers no immediate or increased threat to our security, they may be expected to take Nikita Khrushchev's latest belligerent blast with a big grain of salt.

The Communist Party boss, obviously with tongue in cheek, told Western visitors, "The age of bombers is over. They might as well put bombers and fighters in the museum."

Gloating over recent Soviet scientific achievements, notably the launching of Sputnik, the Red strongman declared, "You cannot send human flesh and blood" to fight the intercontinental ballistic missile and other things the Russians "have up our sleeves."

Khrushchev, speaking with the threatening air of a super-Hitler, boasted of Russia's "complete" rocket-missile arsenal and warned that the Soviet intercontinental missile is a "terrible and pitiless weapon."

It would be folly to assume that Khrushchev's claim to having the ICBM is only another Russian propaganda lie intended to divide the West and intimidate the neutral nations.

But it would be just as foolish to cringe under Soviet threats and accept Red terms for "peaceful" coexistence. Free Nations of the world have paid dearly since World War Two days to learn that Russia's idea of coexistence is on a no-compromise basis, pegged only to attaining world domination through fair means or foul.

The United States acted firmly and wisely, therefore, in turning down Khrushchev's latest proposal for a separate agreement with this country on satellite and missile control, even in the face of a stiffening Soviet attitude toward the West. It thus avoided a split with its allies in standing on the disarmament agreements it had reached with them until such time as the free nations decide that outer space developments dictate a change.

It's tragic that Communism's expansionist policies prevent the world's scientists from devoting their talents to peaceful works. Until such time as someone comes up with a fool-proof disarmament plan acceptable to all nations, the free world must continue building a greater defense against the forces of evil and trust in God that right will prevail.

Opinions Of Other Editors

The Reluctant States

The results of the conference on turning over to the states some Federal spending programs were about as expected—disappointing.

The group, headed by Treasury Secretary Anderson for the Federal Government and New Hampshire Governor Dwinell for the states, made only a couple of concrete recommendations. They involve relatively insignificant sums and may never be enacted by Congress.

The interesting, if not especially surprising, thing about this meeting was the resistance the states showed to forgoing Federal grants for projects like old age assistance payments and school lunches. The Federal Government was apparently willing to give up more than the states were willing to take on.

In the whole matter of the growing centralization of authority in Washington the Federal Government certainly deserves a large share of the blame. For years it has been encouraging states and localities to come to Papa on the Potomac for help with everything from road-building to juvenile delinquency. But the states and localities, as this conference once again underscored, are far from blameless.

Governor Dwinell rightly observed that it is useful to do anything at all in the way of checking Federal paternalism, even if what is done doesn't amount to much until the states develop enough common ordinary spunk to tackle their own problems.

Commission Choices

Washington, Oct. 10 — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is under consideration as a member of the new Civil Rights Commission.

Other notable deliberations for appointment to this six-member bipartisan agency created by the law enacted at the recent session of Congress are:

Former President Herbert Hoover.

Former Defense Secretary Charles Wilson.

Former Attorney General Francis Biddle.

Former Governor Thomas Dewey.

Former Governor Adlai Stevenson.

General Lucius Clay, retired German occupation commander.

Some of this group have been sounded out about being named. Attorney General Herbert Brownell is privately expressing the belief that Mrs. Roosevelt would accept such a "challenging invitation."

President Eisenhower and to speed up the establishment of the Civil Rights Commission. This is a change in plans. That stems from the failure to work out an amicable solution of the Little Rock situation, following the conference with the four Southern governors. Prior to that, the President had intended to delay setting up the new commission until Congress reconvenes in January.

This was due chiefly to the requirement that the Senate confirm both the members of the agency and its staff director. The President was reluctant to risk a possible wrangle over his selections.

But it is now deemed advisable to chance that, as the President considers civil rights has become the most urgent domestic issue confronting the country. To aid in dealing with this pressing problem, the new agency will be organized as quickly as that can be done.

FBI report — In doing that, the President is stressing two other points on his assistants:

The South must be represented on the Civil Rights Commission; and he is willing his inner council have decided to designate a Democrat as its chairman.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been proposed for that position.

General Lucius Clay was primarily recommended because he is a South Carolinian by birth. Clay is also an old Army friend of the President.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Too Sure Of Themselves

Everybody has had something to say about the satellite which Soviet Russia hurled into space and much of what has been said disregards the very simple fact that this accomplishment represents an enormous technical capacity by a nation which only 40 years ago possessed no or little technical capacity and which utilizes an economic system which we in the Western world have consistently insisted cannot produce anything new and great because individual initiative had been removed and the incentives to production had disappeared.

Having witnessed this spectacle of technical capacity and manufacturing know-how, it is essential that we recognize the truism that no people has a monopoly on brains and that no one system of life is the only system available to the human race. The significance of our system is that it recognizes that man is endowed with free will and possesses the right of freedom of choice. The Russians insist on a biological interpretation of man; therefore he need not be free.

This cannot mean that we cringe before Soviet Russia or that we become panicky or that we destroy our standards of life either to accept the spiritual poverty of totalitarianism or the economic cost of manufacturing only for destruction.

What it can mean for us, perhaps what it ought to mean for us, is that we recognize that we have become too sure of ourselves, almost fanatically sure of ourselves, and that therefore intellects have been permitted to grow less robust than they were in the days of Edison, Westinghouse, Steinmetz, Pupin, De Forest and all the other mechanical geniuses, including Henry Ford and the Wright brothers, who were bogged down either by government or corporate bureaucracy. They were free individuals, taking the risks of failure—failure which came to others who also tried.

When lawyers and public relations counsel lay down policy for industrial progress, the slowing-up may become disastrous because their interests are defensive rather than aggressive. They prefer the status quo to controversial brilliance. Soviet Russia has been able to achieve the goal of setting off its satellite because of collapse. Seldom did she resemble a freight elevator or a work-elephant. Today she sets out for the grocery with an air of resignation . . . a mood of "Our's not to reason why, our's but to shop and buy!" Encountered in the market she seems worried and overburdened. By the time she reaches the checker there are deep lines in her face, and her feet are killing her.

As she totters to the parked car she reflects the determination of a piano mover, the mood of low man on a heavy-machinery transportation assignment and the pained expression of a fugitive from a bull-dozer. She gets home with the groceries too exhausted to cook and in no shape to enjoy food. We can't quite understand it. The supermarkets are larger, cleaner, more glamorous and certainly more efficient. Soon the escalator-floors will arrive. Possibly with chairs, so she can sit down while shopping. Nevertheless the little woman looks in a bad way. She seems beset by a great fear . . . probably that when the moving floor arrives she will feel the urge to travel on it by roller skates.

Grocery buying is being made easier, yet the shoppers never seemed more harassed, and under greater strain. Mother used to look fresher and more radiant after getting home with the groceries than she looks today getting under way in a mechanized chain store boasting of its conveniences. She used to put a basket on her arm, looking happy and buoyant as she started out. And she got home in similar shape. She never seemed to complete her grocery explorations in a state fore we could get ours ready for several reasons, some good, some bad:

1. A totalitarian country can concentrate on a particular task in disregard of all other needs;
2. They therefore do not have to consider the pressure for consumers' goods which, in a free society, is both politically and socially important;
3. The control of a Soviet budget and the fiscal devices to support it are not subject to popular criticism and control;
4. There can be no quarrel among the governmental agencies as to which is to do what; those who question the wisdom of directives are not only immediately removed from office but they may, in the new dispensation, be exiled, as in the old one, they were killed. The most efficient method for the removal of opposition and difference of opinion is murder, which is available to them and not to us.

All this makes for effectiveness but it destroys human freedom. What we have now discovered is that so far as production is concerned, such a system not only works imitatively but it stimulates original thinking outside the political and social fields where originally remains forbidden.

This requires study and analysis in the West; not imitation, adulation, or denial. A fact is a fact and the satellite is a fact. It spins in the vast heavenly void and beeps in time. It can be heard and will probably soon be seen. Therefore to say that it is not an achievement is the emotional response of sour grapes, not an intelligent reaction to a novel and historic phenomenon.

The propagandistic value of the satellite is obvious, but that will pass if nothing worse happens. The danger in the United States is that the drums will boom to make more of our boys engineers and to fill our scientific schools to capacity without regard to intelligence. This is a stupid approach to the problem because intelligence is not measured quantitatively. One Edison or Westinghouse is worth more than a classroom of misfits.

What we need to discover truthfully, without propaganda for any cause, is why we have fallen behind in what has obviously been our field. That we must know before we can catch up with the Russians who are beating us in our specialty.

Grocery buying is being made easier, yet the shoppers never seemed more harassed, and under greater strain. Mother used to look fresher and more radiant after getting home with the groceries than she looks today getting under way in a mechanized chain store boasting of its conveniences. She used to put a basket on her arm, looking happy and buoyant as she started out. And she got home in similar shape. She never seemed to complete her grocery explorations in a state

The Pennsylvania Story

Labor In Tug Of War

Harrisburg—Organized labor in Pennsylvania may find itself caught in the middle of a tug of war.

Should this develop—and there is every indication now that it will—labor for once would be in position to sit back and be on the receiving end.

What may bring this about is an element within the leadership of the Republican Party in the Keystone State that has been fighting over the years for more labor recognition by the GOP.

Up to this point the movement has fallen on deaf ears—but the fact is now that many a once high-braying GOP beginning to mellow.

A number of factors have combined to bring about this lowering of the austerity bars on the part of some of the aging warlords of the GOP in Pennsylvania.

Pressure by the younger and newer element within the organization has had much to do with it.

Another factor has been the steadily growing organized labor movement—large enough today so that it can be no longer overlooked.

The upcoming — although troublesome now — merger of the two major labor groups in Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania AFL and the CIO, pose the threat of a booming 1,500,000 membership.

A full head of steam under the combined AFL-CIO could indeed become a decided factor.

The fact that Republicans in Pennsylvania have been on the decline in the past decade—both registration-wise and in the holding of public offices—is another factor that may swing the GOP more into the pro-labor camp.

But there is yet another factor that has prompted the beef-up on the part of GOP efforts in the labor vineyard—and it is this factor that all-out effort in the wooing of labor by the GOP.

Within the past three years of the Democratic Leader Administration, labor programs and ideologies have not fared quite so well as labor leaders expected or would have liked.

Unquestionably labor has received more recognition at the hands of the Leader Administration than in any previous administration of contemporary note—but there have been limitations as to just how far the current administration could go.

Some of these limitations in the minds of labor leaders have not been justified. However, they have had no place to turn. The net result has been a grumpy going along with the Democratic administration.

Should Republicans begin to woo labor in earnest as now appears to be in the offing, it undoubtedly would place labor in its favorite pastime of bargaining.

Actually the first real break in the labor crust insofar as labor and Pennsylvania Republicans are concerned, came four years ago when the GOP in drafting its then ill-fated gubernatorial campaign platform, gave spotty recognition to the labor cause heretofore largely ignored.

It is doubtful if GOP recognition will ever reach the crescendo of that accorded labor by the Democratic Party—but unquestionably it would stand in good stead for both labor and the GOP if some level of accord other than the pointing of gun barrels at each other's head were reached.

This is the goal at which some of the more liberal elements of the GOP in Pennsylvania are shooting and unquestionably will be reflected in next year's statewide campaigning.

Good Evening Ladies!

Ladies Have Gone Too Far

By Ken Duval

It says here, in a publication devoted to the interests of the advertising business, that the Madison Avenue boys deserve the credit for removing the archaic mystery that used to surround the sometimes fair but infrequently gentle sex. To my mind, they deserve no credit, but do deserve a swift kick in their gray flannel pants, and a frozen boot.

What they really have done is to encourage women to do what they probably always wanted to do, but didn't dare; namely, to put an end to false modesty—and I think they've overdone it. In their exuberance over their emancipation from long skirts, multiple petticoats, boned corsets and high-collared blouses, the ladies have shucked too much for their own good.

I do not believe that women are inherently the more modest of the sexes, but for centuries they have been the victims of the male ego, which demanded that a man's woman be hidden as completely as possible from the eyes of other men. The women suffered a great deal of discomfort from this system, but they also gained by the acquisition of mystery. Moreover, I have no doubt that many women acquired mates who might otherwise have remained maidens, by adding the pig-in-a-poke element to marriage.

Any man who buys a pig-in-a-poke these days must lead a sheltered life indeed, far from the beaches and the ballrooms where the anatomical frankness of the opposite sex manifests itself at its worst—or best, according to a man's viewpoint. Personally, I can roll with the punches of conventional mutations and am enjoying every minute of the present and hoping to live to see the ultimate.

Women Are Willing

The advertising boys, in cahoots with the designers, approached this matter with caution until they found the women to be willing followers, and the mass strip-tease was under way. They finally got down to the second layer and away went all mystery about the gimmicks employed to frustrate Nature which is far from impartial in parceling out her anatomical favors. Madison Avenue even set some of these devices, empty of course, to dancing across television screens.

It seems only yesterday that you could make a life-long enemy of a girl by even hinting that she wore falsies. You would be a beast and a cad to speak of such things in the presence of a lady. Now, if she catches your eyes lingering, she will, likely as not, say yes, she wears them, and do you want to make something of it.

I wouldn't want to go back to the days of skirts and stockings on bathing girls, or to the stuffy evening gowns, but I still get the impression at formal parties that I've blundered into a meeting of nursing mothers; and I still don't know what to do with my hands while dancing, or my chest, either.

One advertising tycoon, boasting that he helped this process along, claims it ushered in a new era of sex morality by removing the mystery from the persons of women. It seems to me the male is more predatory than ever before and the female far more willing to be stalked than she was when I was on the prowl, or do I grow bitter?

What I'd like to see is just a little more modesty, a slight restoration of feminine mystery; but I'm fully aware that if this starts we're likely to find ourselves in a new mid-Victorian period, women being what they are.

On Broadway —by Walter Winchell

The Headliners

Walter Duranty, who was one of the titans among foreign correspondents, has passed. He gained world renown while covering Russia and was crowned with a Pulitzer Prize . . . Duranty once described his job as "witnessing the peep show of history." When months of good weather helped Russia's Five-Year plan, he sardonically quipped: "God seems to be on the side of the atheists!" . . . He had a superior reporter's ability to spot significant details as well as a poet's eloquence. Duranty once described the Russian crown jewels: "An Arabian Nights' vision of the Romanoff treasure—the imperial crown jewels of Russia—diamonds big as walnuts, rubies bright-blooded, emeralds vivid green, large as pigeon's eggs, pearls like nuts set in row after perfectly matched row, platinum, gold and flashing diamonds shimmering like running water with rainbow colors of a fountain in the sunlight."

Incidentally, when Gunther wrote his "Inside Europe," he titled the chapter on Russia: "Duranty's Inferno."

Queen Elizabeth's visit to the United States will inspire the customary social obligations. Her Majesty's social obligations would stagger most women—and men. She is a hostess in the heroic tradition. Queen Elizabeth entertains over 30,000 guests annually . . . The Queen has many privileges and is gifted with numerous luxuries. One honor, however, has a rather dubious distinction. Traditionally, the Queen is entitled to the tail of any whale caught on the English coasts. She can use the material in the boning of her corsets. That is, of course, if she needs it.

Ann Blyth in "The Helen Morgan Story" is portraying a performer who reached the radiant heights and also tasted the ashes of despair. Miss Blyth is no stranger to despair . . . Several years ago, when her career began zooming, she was hurled from a sled while tobogganing and her back was broken. Months of hospitalization followed. For more than a year she was tortured by braces and wondered whether she could ever walk again. Of course, there was a happy ending. She recovered, resumed her career and gained much deserved happiness both personally and professionally. Ann Blyth is now a successful actress, a happy wife and mother—and she wants more children. At least ten, she says.

Her groom is a medico. The star had described their courtship: "I never knew whether he was going to kiss me or take my pulse."

Pat O'Brien, who scaled Hollywood's golden mountains, returned to Broadway's neon pinnacles and collected personal raves for his performance in "Miss Lonelyhearts." O'Brien's springboard to Hollywood was the consequence of a fateful whim . . . A quarter-century ago, movie director Lewis Milestone was holidaying in New York before starting work on the film version of "The Front Page." A friend promised to leave a ticket for Milestone at "The Green Pastures" box-office. When he arrived at the theatre, there was no ticket. So he went across the street to witness another show. The cast included Pat O'Brien. Result: The role of Hal Johnson in "The Front Page" and Movieville stardom.

The story has come full circle. O'Brien is now back in a Broadway show portraying a newspaperman.

Some Letters Always Find Addressee

by Jim Riley

Most everyone has heard of a weirdly addressed letter reaching its addressee through the mails.

Such was the case in Stroudsburg this week—at least that's how our informant passed on the word.

The letter was addressed to Harvey Blair, at 804 Main St., Stroudsburg, or the County Jail House.

We are quick to report that it was delivered at the Main St. address.

The letter was addressed in San Francisco, but at least two residents of Stroudsburg are being blamed for the act.

I think you may have something there, Harvey.

Mrs. Don Henzey, 733 Saran St., Stroudsburg, is a patient at the Charles Miner Hospital, Hamburg, Pa.

Jane would like very much to hear from her many friends.

She is the wife of State Trooper Henzey.

Ed Krawitz and Harry Mullins, Stroudsburg lawyer and insurance man respectively, attended yesterday's seventh and deciding World Series game.

Both were rooting for the Braves—I think.

Harold Heffer, Stroudsburg RD 1, is enrolled at Lyncoming College, Williamsport.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Heffer.

Mrs. T. Manning Curtis, 515 Lindbergh Ave., Stroudsburg, is a patient at the General Hospital of Monroe County at the present time.

Everyone is wishing Mrs. Curtis a speedy recovery.

She would like very much to hear from her many friends.

Barney Reidmiller, is off on a late season fishing trip to Canada.

Barney is a resident of Bushkill.

Sanford Strunk, White Heron Lake, found his dog, the one we mentioned within these confines yesterday.

Actually it was Mrs. Strunk who recovered the English Beagle for her husband.

Sam Spagnola, 611 Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, was in the crowd at the sixth game of the World Series.

He was more than a little pleased with the Yankees' 3-2 victory.

Canadensis Couple Takes Over Resort

MR. AND MRS. William C. Kipp, operators of a motor court and cottages at Canadensis, have taken over the White Caps Motor Court and Apartments, Riviera Beach, Fla.

Their new enterprise is located one mile north of West Palm Beach and consists of 48 modern units, featuring daily maid service, hot water heat, electric kitchens, tropical patios, shuffleboard courts, enclosed parking and a restaurant.

Riviera Beach was incorporated in 1923 and has shown a population increase of 130 per cent in the past six years. The city maintains more than 1,000 feet of public ocean beach with lifeguards in attendance.

The average temperature is 75 degrees and the Intracoastal Waterway provides a deep inlet and ideal boating facilities.

Small boats for fishing in Lake Worth are available on a rental basis. There are more than 600 species of fish in the salt water bays and sea around Riviera Beach.

Riviera Beach also features civic fun events, sports, excellent restaurants and nightclubs.

DR. GAIL C. FEGLEY of 9 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, a member of the Lehigh Optometric Society, will attend a Glaucoma Symposium being conducted at the Hotel Roosevelt in Pittsburgh under the joint sponsorship of the Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Ohio Optometric Assn. on Sunday, Nov. 10.

Among those scheduled to deliver papers and demonstrate new instruments to detect glaucoma are: Dr. Isador Kaplan, M. D., Professor of Ocular Therapeutics; Dr. Harold Simmerman, Professor of Ocular Pathology; Dr. Arthur Shlaifer, Associate Professor of Optometry and Ocular Pathology; and Dr. William Walton, Director of Eye Clinics, all at the Pennsylvania State College of Optometry.

The symposium will be based on a thorough review of the problem of glaucoma as it confronts the optometric practitioner. It will be designed to offer a comprehensive review of the entire subject and to point out the varied optometric procedures that can be used to aid in its detection.

An estimated two per cent of the people over 40 years of age have glaucoma. This is an eye disease which can lead to blindness if not controlled in its early stages. A competent optometrist will detect the presence of glaucoma and give advice as to what steps should be taken.

State Warns Farmers Of Salesmen

HARRISBURG — State Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning yesterday warned Pennsylvania farmers to be watchful of alleged disreputable fertilizer dealers operating in the state.

Reports received by the Department from farmers who claim to have lost money through dealings with "fast talking" salesmen disclose the pattern of operation based on the offer of fabulous discounts, he stated.

"We are keeping an eye on this scheme," Henning declared. "Until there is a violation of our agricultural laws our hands are tied. All we can do is warn Pennsylvania farmers of the situation. Any offers of bargain discounts should be checked with someone in whom the farmer has confidence."

Claims Farmers say salesmen who claim they represent a fertilizer concern are offering cash discounts believed to be far below average prices in the State. With the discount order goes an insurance policy for protection of the farmers, provided cash is paid in advance for the fertilizer, but the policy is for only one month, it is said.

Farmers were told they would receive fertilizer shipments this Fall, but when the delivery date arrived salesmen claimed there was a "misunderstanding" and the fertilizer would not be delivered until the Spring of 1958.

Reports have been received from Central Counties including Mifflin and Centre, but the operation is believed to have moved southward and into western Pennsylvania. Established reputable fertilizer distributors and local dealers are not involved, Henning emphasized.

VITAMIN PROTECTION

VITAMIN D helps proper bone formation and aids in prevention of rickets. Deficiency may result in: rickets, tooth decay, bone deformities, and muscular weakness.

Even the best diets are usually deficient in vitamins—so many are destroyed in cooking and otherwise lost. How can you make up for this deficiency? VITAMIN PROTECTION insures the proper vitamin potency for you! There is a vast difference between one vitamin product and another. They vary in strength, they vary in contents. Only your Doctor and your Pharmacist are qualified to guide you to the effective vitamins for you. And remember, although one vitamin product may appear to cost less than another, it is usually no saving because you must consume more to get the proper potency. Why risk your money—why take a chance with your health? Consult us about your vitamin needs and be sure!

VITAMIN D helps proper bone formation and aids in prevention of rickets. Deficiency may result in: rickets, tooth decay, bone deformities, and muscular weakness.

Even the best diets are usually deficient in vitamins—so many are destroyed in cooking and otherwise lost. How can you make up for this deficiency? VITAMIN PROTECTION insures the proper vitamin potency for you! There is a vast difference between one vitamin product and another. They vary in strength, they vary in contents. Only your Doctor and your Pharmacist are qualified to guide you to the effective vitamins for you. And remember, although one vitamin product may appear to cost less than another, it is usually no saving because you must consume more to get the proper potency. Why risk your money—why take a chance with your health? Consult us about your vitamin needs and be sure!

Absences Increase At High Schools In Boroughs

ESSTC Shows Decline In Illnesses

ABSENCES due to illness continued to rise in some Monroe County schools yesterday.

In East Stroudsburg Area Jointure (East Stroudsburg, Middle Smithfield, Smithfield, Bushkill schools) Carl T. Secor, supervising principal, listed absences at 356 as of yesterday afternoon. That's about 15 percent of the total enrollment. It compared with 324 at yesterday morning and 296 absent on Wednesday.

Earl F. Groner, Stroud Union Schools superintendent, said the number of students absent from school continued to increase yesterday. But Groner said that total absences still only represent about 10 percent of the enrollment.

Decline
At East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, however, the report was considerably more optimistic. Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president, said that "illnesses here on campus are apparently on the decline."

Dr. Koehler said that more than 200 students were ill with colds or flu on Tuesday, the peak day. By yesterday the total was down to "around 150," the president said.

Undeterred by illness which has hit at its football team, the college still plans to proceed with its annual homecoming festivities this weekend.

C. Willis Dunlap, supervising principal of Pocono Mountain Joint Schools, said that absences in that large district were "just about normal for this time of year."

Approval Granted For Typewriter

COUNTY Commissioners yesterday approved a requisition for an electric typewriter for the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder.

In other actions, Commission Center of Monroe and Approved payment of $2,500 which they had allocated in this year's budget to the Guild-Northampton Counties.

Allocation
Approved allocation of $560 as requested by the Monroe County Historical Society.

Agreed to purchase three filing cabinets from Steinhilber Stationery for use in the tax equalization system at a cost of $525 each—the lowest cost estimate out of three secured by chief clerk H. Ray Saunders.

Bicycle Unit To Be Formed At College

SHANE MacCarthy Bicycle Unit Number One will be officially formed Saturday on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus.

The ceremony will take place during half-time of the ESSTC-Loch Haven football game. It will be a highlight of homecoming activity at the local school.

Honor

The unit has been named in honor of Dr. Shane MacCarthy, head of President Eisenhower's Council on Youth Fitness. MacCarthy appeared on the local campus earlier this year. A youth fitness unit was formed immediately after his visit with Faye Dallmeyer as acting chairman and Larry Morgan serving as vice chairman. Advisers are O. J. Liljenstein, Miss Genevieve Zimbar and Paul Crawn.

Miss Dallmeyer and Morgan will represent students at Saturday's half-time program. Dr. LeRoy Koehler, college president and Liljenstein will speak briefly.

Plans Set For Services

ETHEDAY Teetie, 51, who died Wednesday, will be buried by the Michael Margotta Funeral Home in Jessup.

There will be a Requiem Mass at St. Thomas Aquinas Roman Catholic Church in Archbald at 9:30 a.m. Monday. The viewing will be at the funeral home at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Services were announced yesterday by Daniel G. Warner Funeral Home in Stroudsburg.

Resident
Mr. Teetie has been a resident of Stroudsburg for the past three years after moving here from Archbald.

Survivors are his wife, Anna Teetie; a daughter, Anna Marie Teetie; his mother, Mrs. Joseph Silverstone of Archbald; three brothers, Raymond, Maldo and Edward Teetie; two sisters, and one step brother.

Arrangements were made by Daniel G. Warner Funeral Home.

NO SOUND OF HUNTING—Our nomination for prettiest successful archer in current bow and arrow buck-deer season is Diane Streepy, 16, a Junior student at Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School. Diane killed 130-pound buck with four-point antler Wednesday night, using 50-pound bow and twin-bladed arrow.

Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School Girl Shoots 130-Pound Buck With Bow, Arrow

Dear Annie Oakley:

Things were pretty tough back in the old days when you first learned to use that shootin' iron. And they ain't changed much since.

I'm here to tell you, though, that the men can't hold a candle to you women when it comes to huntin' nowadays. Used to be a man's rifle was his own province and when he packed up the ole musket and powder an' took off for the hills he was mighty sure he wasn't gonna find no woman comin' down over t'other hill to meet him, luggin' a daid animal on her back.

Then the gals started takin' up with the muskets and such. So the fellers started gettin' real uppity about the hull thing and they begun usin' their bows and arrows. Thought they was gonna force the wimmen outta that fer sure.

But you know, Annie, they was plumb wrong. Wimmen is gettin' to be every bit as good archers as them men.

Take yestiddy, fer example. Up here in front of the Daily Record building at 9:30 a.m. drives a car with a young lady in it alongside a gentleman who, it turns out, is her father. Her name's Diane Streepy. She was 16, she said later and she lives with her dad and mom (Mr. and Mrs. George Streepy) on the Skytop-Promised Land road way off up near Greentown.

Well, ma'am, I tell you when this girl and her dad opens up the trunk of that car and shows us this four-point buck, we was plumb flabbergasted. Mr. Streepy says that Diane shot this here deer with a bow. That is she really killed it with an arrow but the arrow came from the bow. You know how them things are, but they are darned hard to keep straight now and then.

To look at that buck you'd have thought he had plumb enjoyed dyin'. He had this silly grin on his face (which later turned out to be only riggy mortiz or whatever that is that comes over you after you've departed this vale) and he has a hole run clean through his hindquarters where the arrow went all the way in and out.

Mr. Streepy says Diane had shot three bucks afore this one. That is to say she started huntin' four years ago, with a gun, and she killed one that first year, one the second and one more the third. This one here was the first one Diane had killed with a bow and arrow.

Got it about 5:30 on Wednesday night, he said, about a mile and a half away from home when the buck was "out walkin'" with a doe and Diane just hauled off and brought him down about 90 feet away. Diane said she "sort of liked bow and arrow hunting a little better now" after she killed this one "because I have more confidence."

So we up and asked her 'bout how the rest of the family was about this huntin' business and she smiled and said well her mom was crazy about it too and she'd go huntin' all the time if she could. Whole family likes huntin' she said. Mr. Streepy said that was right.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Today most farmers don't need to work by the light of the Harvest Moon to bring in the crops before the first heavy frost, but fortunately the Harvest Moon doesn't know that and keeps right on shining, big as a barrel or a barn door, depending on the viewer.

A moon is handy for lots of things besides crops and romance—for practical things, for instance, like finding the back door without stepping on the cat or rolling along on fallen apples on the nights after the days you left too early to turn the porch light on.

Nevertheless, a moonlit world, while perfectly visible, is an entirely different world than by daylight. I think it's because there is no color. The wild asters are purple, the leaves crimson and gold, the barberry burning red in a car's headlight. Turn off the lights and, while you can see the fringe of the aster, the shine of the barberry, the shape of the leaves—they are all in mystic shades of grey.

Well, while the moon was bright enough to read by last night I didn't have time to do the research necessary to give an authoritative answer to Madalyn Maloney's question about when is the proper time for the guests at a wedding to stand up for the procession.

However, it is a pertinent question, and worth doing a bit of research on. However, if you have to go to a wedding before I get around to it, I'll give you my rule of thumb. I keep an eye on the bride's mother. When she gets up, I'm pretty sure I'm not going to be sticking up like a sore thumb all by my lonesome. By what mysterious signal she knows when to get up, I don't know.

But I'll find out, I promise. Meanwhile I hope that old Harvest Moon keeps right on weaving magic so we'll all have weddings to go to.

Local PTA Delegates Report On State Convention Talk By Governor Leader

Mrs. Lester Katz, PTA County Council President; Mrs. David Mazer, District Vice-President; and Mrs. Edward Terrill of Smithfield School represented Monroe County at the 40th State Convention of the PTA Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The PTA convention theme was "Unfinished Business, the Child and his Future." Mrs. Rollin Brown of Los Angeles, Calif., National President of the PTA gave the keynote address in Monday night's session of the convention.

Mrs. Brown has been active at the National level for more than the past decade having filled many prominent posts. Mrs. Brown attended last year the Japan National Congress of Parents and Teachers which was formed during occupation days at the direction of General Douglas MacArthur as a "democratizing force."

The banquet group were addressed by the Gov. George M. Leader. With school costs accounting for approximately one-half the state budget, Mr. Leader focused attention on current problems and charting the future of Pennsylvania's public school system.

Governor Leader said that Pennsylvania has not spent enough money to do a good job in education. As a result,

Hamblin-Poliskiewicz Wedding In Portland

Miss Stella Poliskiewicz, of Bangor RD 1, daughter of Paul Poliskiewicz, was married on Sunday, September 22, to Robert Hamblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hamblin, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Joseph Ellig, CM, of Bangor, performed the ceremony at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, Portland. Artemus Rasley of Mount Bethel was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bernice Poliskiewicz was matron of honor. Mrs. Molly Long, of East Stroudsburg, and Miss Helen Claudier, of New York, were bridesmaids. John Poliskiewicz, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Kenneth Long and Mitchell Strunk, both of East Stroudsburg.

The bride wore a gown of imported Italian satin and lace, made with fitted bodice and long sleeves. Panels of lace at the side flowed into a chapel length train. She carried a prayer book with white orchids and pompons.

The matron of honor wore a dress of blue net over taffeta with a matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of pompons and rosebuds. The bridesmaids' gowns were of melon pink net over taffeta and their colonial bouquets were of pompons and gladiolas.

Following a reception at the Blue Valley Farm Show Building in Bangor, Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin left for a trip to the Thousand Islands and Niagara Falls and Canada. On their return they will reside with the bride's father in Bangor RD 1.

The bride attended Portland High School. Her husband is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School and served in the U. S. Army for two years. He is employed by Howell's Greenhouse, East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Thomas In England

Mrs. Ellen Thomas, Brown St. Stroudsburg and her daughter, Mrs. Donald Smith, of Port Jervis are now visiting England and Wales. They sailed on September 27 on the Queen Elizabeth.

Ramsey PTA Concerned About Safety Of Children Enroute To School

The safety of children on the streets near the Ramsey school was the chief item of discussion at a special meeting of the Ramsey School Parent Teachers Assn. held Tuesday night at the school.

Parents pointed out that there is no police protection at the school at the present time. Another source of worry is Scott Street, which now has no stop signs from Fifth to Eighth, with the result that cars sometimes go over the speed limit.

Other items discussed at the meeting were:

An open house to be held at the school in the near future. A decision to ask permission to raise funds for playground equipment for the children of the school.

Members were invited to attend the dedication program at the Arlington Heights Elementary School on Wednesday, October 16 at 8 p. m.

Robert Shaw, new president of the Ramsey PTA, urged mothers and fathers of children who are willing to serve on committees to call Mrs. Edwin Abrahamson, 5477.

Other officers are Mrs. James Kitson, vice president; Mrs. Edwin Abrahamson, secretary; Mrs. Alexander Blaker, treasurer.

Study Of Borough Is Begun

The Know-Your-Town Committee of the East Stroudsburg League of Women Voters met at the home of Mrs. Walter Olenick, Minisink Hills on Thursday, October 8, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Olenick, chairman of the committee, presented Charles Bensinger Jr., borough solicitor of East Stroudsburg.

He outlined the governmental set-up of the borough of East Stroudsburg, the various departments and their responsibilities.

The Provisional League is making a statistical survey of all phases of the East Stroudsburg Borough government. At the completion of the survey, it will be published and made available to all citizens as a public service to the community.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Walter Olenick, Minisink Hills; Miss Esther Sloan, Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mrs. John Britton, Bushkill; Mrs. J. Manley, Mrs. Fred Davis, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. George Levin, Shawnee.

Fruits Of Labor Enjoyed By Third Graders

The third grade pupils of the Campus Laboratory School enjoyed the fruits of their labors, literally, at a Fruit party which climaxed their unit of study on "The Story of Fruit."

The party was arranged by Miss Barbara Wellington, student teacher, assisted by members of the social studies committee: Jere Lantz, Debbie Fredericks, Debbie Reese and Gail Silver.

The class was divided into two teams. Each member of the class was asked a question relating to something which had been learned during the unit study. A correct answer entitled the pupil to choose a piece of fruit from the basket and scored a point for his team.

At the end of the contest, everyone ate the fruit he had earned. Mrs. Gladys Seese is supervisor of the third grade.

Sauerkraut Supper Set By Christian Pals

The Christian Pals Class of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church met to plan their annual sauerkraut supper to be held Friday, Oct. 18, 5 to 7 p. m. The co-chairmen of the supper will be Mrs. Nelson Westbrook and Mrs. Roger C. Stinson.

Named to the kitchen committee were Mrs. Paul Overfield, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Hiram Gilber, Mrs. John DeVivo, Mrs. Howard Clugston, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Harold Stiff, Mrs. Robert Ford and Miss Martha Fellenner.

The dining room will be in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Staples. Helping her as waitresses will be Mrs. Roland Dunkelberger, Mrs. Paul Fetherman, Mrs. Paul Gouger, Mrs. Clyde Hendrickson, Mrs. Ben Coolbaugh, Mrs. Charles Marsh, Mrs. Samuel Lee, Mrs. Ray Welsh, Mrs. Sheldon Newell, Mrs. William Owens, Mrs. Merlin Rutt, Mrs. John Pyle and Mrs. Sherwood Roberts.

In charge of tickets will be Mrs. William Kegel and Mrs. William Davis.

An added attraction to the supper will be an apron and tea towel sale in charge of Mrs. William Clark. Helping her will be Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Overfield, Mrs. Wallace Adams, Mrs. Ben Coolbaugh, Mrs. Archie Barry and Mrs. Hubert Tebbis.

A menu of roast pork, sauerkraut, filling, mashed potatoes, green beans, celery, olives and pumpkin pie was decided upon.

Cancer Dressings

THE CANCER Dressings Group of Christ Episcopal Church will meet in the Parish Hall on Friday from 10 to 3. Members are asked to notice the change of date.

Mrs. Joseph Carone

Wedding At Church In Bushkill

Bushkill — St. John's Roman Catholic Church of Bushkill, was the scene of a wedding on Saturday, September 28, at 11:30 a. m. when Miss Emily Ungvasky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ungvasky of Wilkes-Barre, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Carone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carone, Sr. of Acra, N. Y.

Rev. Francis Barrett officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. William Hannas of East Stroudsburg was organist and the soloist was Mrs. Walter Price of Phila., sister of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a ballerina length gown of ice blue satin, fashioned with tight fitted bodice trimmed in ice blue lace applique and iridescent beads. The full skirt of ice blue net was covered with four panels of ice blue satin, with lace applique and beads. Her fingertip length veil fell from a tight fitting sculptured cap of ice blue satin and pearls. She carried a satin prayer book adorned with an orchid.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Elizabeth Ungvasky of Wilkes-Barre, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over blue taffeta fashioned with tight fitted bodice, large bow and full length panel of taffeta at back. She wore a small matching hat of blue stiff net. Her bouquet was a cascade of blue and white mums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Porter of Bellows Falls, Vt., wore an identical gown to the maid-of-honor in rose with white lace, small matching hat and cascade bouquet of pink and white mums.

The best man was Frank Manghisi, of Newark, N. J., and the usher was Joseph Gooch of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of French blue lace trimmed with matching ribbon and an iridescent pink hat. Her corsage was a pink orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a street length dress of beige embroidered satin with beige feathered hat and her corsage was an orchid in shades of brown and beige.

A reception was held at the Fernwood at 1:30 for friends and relatives, most of whom had come from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

After a week-long honeymoon in Nassau, the bride and groom will be at home on Route 23.

Porter Twp. CIA Backs CD Set-Up

Porter Township — Highlight of the Porter Twp. CIA meeting on Friday night was the role of the township in Civil Defense as outlined by Jack Anderson, Civil Defense Director for Eastern Pennsylvania.

Anderson stressed the need for a CD organization in the county in view of the fact that all areas are subject to fall out from atomic explosions. He explained the type of organization needed in the area and promised the full cooperation of his office in carrying out the program.

The township will secure a man trained in radiological detection.

Preceding Anderson's talk, the association held a business meeting when officers were re-elected for the year: president, William Bradshaw; vice president, Arthur Weaver; treasurer, Dorothy Raitt; secretary, H. A. Foreman.

An honored guest was Tilden Mosier, Peck's Pond, one of the oldest residents of the township, who will have a birthday on October 19.

A social period was enjoyed with prizes for cards going to Violetta Keefe, Lake Minisink; William Bradshaw, Pine Flats and Arthur Weaver, Lake Minisink.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Edge, Pecks Pond; Marge Clarke, Irene Foreman, H. A. Foreman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Fenstermaker, Lake Minisink; Ed Werkheiser, East Stroudsburg; Ronald Smith, Carol Smith, Phyllis Smith and Charlotte Raitt, Hunter's Range; Louis Bateman, Lake Minisink; William Meilleh, Standing Stone; H. A. Foreman, Peck's Pond.

Mrs. Edge of Peck's Pond received mention for having baked the prize-winning cake. Marge Clarke was hostess and Mrs. Foreman poured.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 12 with Mrs. Helen Young and Irene Foreman as hostesses.

Surprise For Mrs. Stright On Birthday Eve

Mrs. Georgianna Stright was given a surprise birthday party on Wednesday night, the eve of her birthday. Serenaders outside the picture window at her home in Cherry Valley heralded the party.

Guests included Mrs. Nancy Farry, Mrs. Alberta Yutz, Mrs. Beatrice Anthony, Mrs. Anne Mandell, Miss Jean Gurr, Miss Dorothy Lissette, Miss Beulah McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Stright.

Plan Bake Sale

Tannersville — The Young Adult Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is holding a bake sale on Saturday, October 12, at 10:30 at Metzgar's Nu-Way Market in Tannersville.

How We Rate 'em

By Dick Dunkel

Doggone! Just as next Saturday's Oklahoma-Texas game was beginning to look like a test, at last, for the Sooners, the Longhorns had to go and swoon. They lost, 27-21, to South Carolina last Saturday.

So, according to the Power Index, the Texas rating is down to 90.7, exactly 28 points below Oklahoma's top ranking 118.7. And that's just about the favorite winning margin for the Sooners. They've outscored their two previous opponents by 26 points each.

Top billing for this week, then, must go to the meeting of No. 2 Michigan State with No. 13 Michigan, at Ann Arbor. Both are undefeated but, says the Power Index, State has been 13 points stronger than its old rival to date. And that will be the Spartans' victorious margin if the game goes strictly in accordance with the record.

Other national leaders have set the following par — not forecasts — for themselves in games of next Saturday. Favorites must win by these amounts in order to maintain present ratings:

No. 3 Iowa, 47 over Indiana; No. 4 Rice, 10 over Duke; No. 5 Minnesota, 21 over Northwestern; No. 6 Oregon State, 21 over Idaho; No. 7 Wisconsin, 16 over Purdue; No. 8 Mississippi, 26 over Vanderbilt; and No. 9 Auburn, 10 over Kentucky.

The higher rating team has won 80.1 per cent of 581 games, not including ties, covered by the Power Index so far this season.

Here are past performance ratios for other big games of the coming weekend:

Friday Night
Miami, Fla., even with No. Carolina; SMU 17 over Missouri.

Saturday
EAST—Army 4 over Notre Dame, Boston College 18 over Dayton, Penn State 4 over Wm. & Mary, Pitt 24 over Nebraska, Princeton 2 over Penn, Syracuse 20 over Cornell, Yale 20 over Columbia, W. Virginia 5 over Boston U.

MIDWEST—Kansas 7 over Iowa State, Ohio State even with Illinois, Colorado 23 over Arizona.

SOUTH—Arkansas 4 over Baylor, Ga. Tech 11 over LSU, N. C. State 33 over Florida State, So. Carolina 30 over Furman, Tennessee 30 over Chattanooga, Texas A & M 7 over Houston, TCU 12 over Alabama, Virginia 1 over Clemson.

FAR WEST—Oregon 35 over San Jose State, Wash. State 8 over Stanford, UCLA 13 over Washington, Navy 12 over California.

Power Index pairings for the weekend's games follow:

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

EXPLANATION: The Power Index ratings are past performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team, against equally rated opposition.

Braves Win Series; Too Much Burdette For Yanks

Comes Back To Haunt Ex-Employers

IF THE flu epidemic continues to force cancellation and postponement of college and schoolboy grid tussles, the forecaster may become extinct. In some cases—not flu—it may be a good thing. If the predictor "passes away" the football coach would be lifted from the old hot spot for a change, and not be classed in the not liked favorite's role week after week.

Disregarding the above this lucky selector will gaze into the crystal ball with high hopes of improving on a .764 average, following a 8-won, 3-loss mark a week ago. Over-all the statistics read $2 up and 10 down.

East Stroudsburg Teachers Over Lock Haven STC—Last week the Bald Eagles were hit hard by the flu and forced to cancel a game. This week the "bug" is striking ESSTC. Either way you look at it, undermanned squads will be battling on Normal Hill Saturday. Our hopes for a Warrior victory is based on the fact we feel Eugene Martin has a comeback eleven. Last week, ESSTC was down, 21-6, against Shippensburg and came back and nearly snatched a victory away from the Raiders. Saturday, the Warriors will be rebounding with the same tenacity to get back on the victorious trail.

STROUDSBURG HIGH—This quick scheduled game is a fan's delight. It will pit a defensive club—Strodsburg—against an offensive-minded eleven—Wilson. John Whitehead's Mountaineers have shown a fine defensive unit all year. We believe this will prevail in this battle between a Lehigh Valley League stalwart and a Lehigh-Northampton loop perennial championship contender.

CATAWAUGA OVER Palmyra—There are too many Rough Riders for the Bombers to contend with.

EMMAUS OVER Slatington—Luke Lobb will be out to get his Green Hornets on the winning trail again. Slatington, strong offensively, but woefully weak defensively, we fear, won't be able to contain Emmaus.

NORTHAMPTON OVER Whitehall—The Konkrete Kids are rolling, and no Zephyr is going to stand in the way of Al Erdosy's power-driven eleven.

NAZARETH OVER Parkland—Too many veteran Eagles for the Trojans to master.

HELLERTOWN OVER Muhlenberg Twp.—This is a toss up, and the nod goes to the Panthers on general principles.

ALLENTOWN OVER Memorial High, N. J.—The Canaries are really high for this one, hoping, most of all, to halt the West New Yorkers 41-game consecutive winning streak.

EASTON OVER Bok of Philadelphia—The Rovers have been pasting Bok yearly, and this season will be a replica of the past.

BETHLEHEM OVER Milton Hershey—The Hurricanes have been unpredictable this year. We will try and set them on the winning trail again.

COLLEGE TUSSELS—Lafayette over Delaware; Lehigh over Gettysburg; and Scranton over Muhlenberg.

Twin-Boro Ladies Hit Pins Today

TWIN-BORO Ladies' League will bowl today at Pocono Bowling Center, starting at 7 p.m. The schedule:

Alleys one and two—Bartonsville Hotel vs. Johnnie's Inn.

Alleys three and four—B & B Amusement vs. MacNichols Sports Shop.

Alleys five and six—Sommers Bros. vs. Lawson Automotive.

Alleys seven and eight—Sherwin Mfg. Corp. vs. Quick's Restaurant.

New & USED GUNS BOUGHT & SOLD

Pocono Army-Navy 365 Main St., Stroudsburg

This will go down in baseball history as the "Burdette series." The man whom the Yankees traded away to Boston with $50,000 for Johnny Sain as 1951 pennant insurance really came back to haunt them. Using a puzzling mixture of slider, screwball, curve and fast ball, the 30-year-old right-hander beat the Yanks almost all by himself.

And so Fred Haney, the manager who was hung in effigy when the Braves faltered in July, has hung a second World Series defeat on Casey Stengel who had won six of seven previous October tests. The Yanks now own a 17-6 series record and the National League now has won 20 to 34 by the American League.

$8,000 to Each Brave Each winning Brave will get about $8,000 from the player pool that was split 33 ways. The Yanks will take home about $5,710 each, their smallest pay day in years. Exact shares won't be known until next week when Commissioner Ford Frick's office makes the announcement.

Jittery Yankee fielding must be blamed for much of Don Larsen's trouble in the big third inning for the perfect game pitcher would have been out of the inning if Kubek hadn't made an error.

There was one out and nobody on when Bob Hazle punched a single to left for his first series hit. Johnny Logan bounced a grounder to Kubek that had double play written all over it. Kubek hurriedly threw high, pulling Jerry Coleman off second base.

Mathews Doubles Mathews ripped a double into the right-field corner, a line drive over the head of first baseman Joe Collins, and both Hazle and Logan scored. Hank Bauer's throw relayed by Collins to Yogi Berra, was too late to get Logan.

Stengel made his second appearance of the inning and brought in Bobby Shantz, the veteran lefty, to replace Larsen.

Milwaukee, smelling blood, wasn't ready to stop. Hank Aaron singled to center, knocking in Mathews, and Wes Covington, hitless since the first two games, dropped a Texas League single into center. Aaron had scored to third on the hit and he scored as Coleman forced Covington at second on Frank Torre's grounder.

Shantz was followed by Art Ditmar, Tom Sturdivant and finally Byrne but the damage had been done. Whitney Ford who had asked for this start although he had only two days rest, like Burdette, was in the bullpen. He never got into the game.

Hung Once, Haired Now

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Four months ago they hung Fred Haney in effigy. Today the same red-faced little guy was being eulogized as the greatest manager in baseball.

As late as Sept. 15, they had Haney on the way out as manager of the "choke-up" Milwaukee Braves. Today his return as pilot in 1958 is taken for granted and his team is being hailed as the scrappiest, grittiest, most determined and most courageous team that ever played in a World Series.

The only time the Braves "choked up" was today—after the Braves had realized they were the new world champions. The players choked up, all right, but from emotion. They could hardly talk, they were so happy.

So when Casey Stengel, the losing manager, came to Haney's little room in the Braves' clubhouse after the game to congratulate him and the team on a fine job, Haney was deeply moved.

"Thanks, Case," the tired but happy little guy whispered with a choke in his voice. "You don't know what this means to me. Nobody does. This makes up for everything."

COSTLY PLAY FOR YANKS — Milwaukee Brave outfielder Bob Hazle slides safely into second and Yankee second sacker Jerry Coleman spills to ground as his throw sails to first but too late to get Johnny Logan in third inning of World Series yesterday at Yankee Stadium. Hazle was safe when Tony Kubek's throw pulled Coleman off bag. Ball is at right. Kubek fielded Logan's grounder to start action, and his errant throw opened the door to a four-run Brave rally in the inning.

If Lew Could Cook, Haney Would Marry Pitching Ace

By ED CORIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—"Oh that Burdette, if he could cook I'd marry him."

Manager Fred Haney of the world champion Milwaukee Braves, said it just as calmly as if he were having an afternoon cup of tea at home.

He was speaking of Lew Burdette, the pitcher who beat the big, bad New York Yankees three times in the Series, culminating his effort with a 5-0 victory in the finale with just two days' rest.

Haney said he never really was worried about Burdette (this fellow talks in understatements) but that he was considering taking him out in the ninth when the Yanks loaded the bases.

"I was going to let him face one more hitter," Haney said. "Then I would have had to take him out. But I wanted him to finish right. I knew he was getting tired, but I wanted him in there at the end."

The celebration in the winning clubhouse was mild. There was little whooping and hollering by the players. They just sat around being interviewed, sipping beer and soda pop.

"Why should we get excited here," laughed Hank Aaron, who hit in every game. "We'll wait until we get back to Milwaukee."

Aaron was sitting calmly next to left fielder Wes Covington.

"I threw a lot of sliders and slow curves," said Burdette who was asked the same question about 50 times. "That was a real blast that Mathews grabbed on Bill Skowron for the final out. It was a hard hit ball and a tough one to play."

"Yet I didn't have to be as careful in the ninth as I did all through that 1-0 ball game two days ago. Any slip then would have been curtains. In this one, I had a chance to relax a little."

Burdette, a fellow with a sense of humor, said he was distressed when Bauer hit a double in the first inning.

"I said to myself: 'Holy smokes, they're not going to get me out of here this fast, are they?'"

They Didn't They didn't. The Yanks didn't get another hit until Jerry Coleman's single in the fifth.

"So Haney said I'm tired," laughed Burdette. "Well, for the record I'm not. But I don't have to pitch again until next spring, so that's a help."

Haney said he would have sent either Don McMahon or Warren Spahn, his ailing ace, in to stop the Yanks had Burdette gotten in serious trouble in the ninth.

"They both were ready, but I didn't get far enough along that line to decide who it would have been."

Pilot Tired The little pilot was more tired than most of his players.

He sighed: "Well, I guess they will lay off that choke up business from now on."

He was talking about charges that the Braves had choked up in the pennant drive last year and permitted the Brooklyn Dodgers to win it at the end.

"As for me, when all the celebrating is over, I'm going to get lost in a duck blind for a month where no one will find me."

Stengel Lauds Conquerer; 'Milwaukee Outplayed Us'

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Casey Stengel paid full homage today to Lew Burdette, the conqueror of his world champion New York Yankees.

"He pitched in three games and held us close all the way," said the beaten Yankee manager.

"He is the best pitcher I have seen in three games against us this year. How many runs did we make against him? Two. That's all there is to it." In Stengel's opinion that is the whole story of why the Milwaukee Braves are now the new world champions.

Stengel stoutly refused to second guess the big third inning when a double play went wrong because of Tony Kubek's high toss to Jerry Coleman, and the Braves wound up with four runs.

"They outplayed us in the Series," he said. "They deserve all the credit."

Yanks Subdued The Yankees, as might be expected, were subdued as they trudged to their dressing room after dropping the seventh and deciding game of the 1957 World Series. The only conversation between the players concerned the immediate plans for hunting and vacations.

Stengel was quickly ringed with reporters.

"He (Burdette), did a big job,"

He started off. "He's the man." Discussing the third inning when Bob Hazle singled to left field, and Johnny Logan bounced to Tony Kubek, Stengel said, "It could have been a double play."

He was more concerned with the fact Logan was safe at first than by Kubek's high throw to Coleman that drew him off the bag and resulted in both runners being called safe.

"I don't think he (Logan) was past the bag when he (Yankee first baseman Joe Collins) caught the ball. I thought he should have been out at first."

At this point Mathews doubled, and Hank Aaron and Wes Covington followed with singles to account for four big runs.

Before Logan hit what looked like a double play grounder he popped a foul back of the plate in the third that Yogi Berra might have caught if he had been able to make a fast start.

Didn't See the Ball "I couldn't see the ball," Berra explained afterwards. "They're hard to see anyway. The pitch came in down low and when he fouled it, it shot straight up, and it fooled you. I lost sight of it. Maybe I blinked my eyes. I don't know. I heard Don Larsen call to me and I started after it. You gotta get a quick start to get a foul like that."

Stengel was quickly ringed with reporters.

Dis-Mantled Yankees Came Apart When Mick Returned

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—By taking the world championship to Milwaukee, the Braves became the first club to win the World Series on their first attempt since the Gas House Gang Cardinals of 1926. Only a half dozen others have accomplished that feat.

The owners began providing opportunities for such a distinction by moving franchises around. And, of course, several of these guys were a round when the Braves won their second, and last, pennant for Boston in 1918.

The Yanks were dis-mantled when Mickey was hurt, but it was his return that led to their coming apart completely. It was a last-minute decision by Manager Casey Stengel to send Mantle to center field and return young Tony Kubek to third base. And it was Kubek's high throw to second on Johnny Logan's grounder, which had a double play label, that led to Milwaukee's four runs in the third.

If the throw had been perfect, Jerry Coleman likely would have snuffed out Logan on the relay to first and Don Larsen would have survived the inning.

Lew Burdette thought he'd have all winter to rest after pitching three World Series games. Maybe he would have if he had lost. Now he probably will have to show up at every banquet in Wisconsin during the winter.

After Lew completed 24 scoreless innings and became the first pitcher to win two Series shutouts since Christy Mathewson, a fan suggested: "Milwaukee probably will name a brand of beer 'Burdette.' That might be appropriate in view of rumors Burdette sometimes puts down the ball."

The Yanks' B-B combination that slugged out their sixth game victory—Bauer and Berra—had no more power than BB guns today. Hank opened the game with a double, then flied out twice and grounded out once. Yogi drew an intentional pass and got on base another time on Ed Mathews' error, but he didn't get a hit and hoisted a high pop fly to Frank Torre at the start of the ninth.

The University of North Dakota football teams have had unbeaten seasons. In 13 campaigns the team lost only one game each year.

Stengel was quickly ringed with reporters.

S-burg Meets Wilson Tomorrow

Giffels Site Of Substitute Grid Contest

STROUDSBURG High's varsity eleven will play Wilson High at Gordon Giffels Field tomorrow night, Mahlon Serfass, Mountaineer faculty manager of athletics announced last night.

The Stroudsburg-Wilson grid renewal takes the place of the Mountaineers cancelled game with Pen Argyl. Serfass said that the negotiations to reschedule the Green Wave and Mountaineers fell through and it was decided to write the tilt off the books entirely.

Wilson, coached by Lionel (Jud) Hall, yearly puts out one of the better high school teams in the Lehigh Valley.

The Warriors from suburban Easton own a 2-1 record, having bested Hellertown and Shillington and dropping a 31-13 decision to powerful Easton High.

Hall uses the Miami Drive series with more than noticeable optional movement by his all-scholastic candidate, quarterback Bobby Kline.

Two Units
Wilson, because of its big numbers—often 100 go out for the squad—uses two units, a defensive and attacking force.

Stroudsburg will take an unbeaten record into the game. The Mountaineers of John Whitehead defeated Lehigh, Emmaus and Palmyra to post a 3-0 log.

It will be the first meeting of a Whitehead-coached team and a Hall-tutored squad. In the past—some years ago—Wilson and Stroudsburg got together on the gridiron.

The contest will bring together two different-type teams, with the Warriors featuring mainly offense, and the Mountaineers depending this season on a strong defense.

2 Good Backs
Wilson, even in its setback against Easton, showed an attack that will give all opponents frenzied nervous moments. Kline, who was out of the Rover game, is the key man in the offense, operating on options.

Willard Helm is the other half of Wilson's one-two attacking punch. Helm works from a halfback position, and hits holes with split-second timing and poses a threat of going all the way on each play.

Irish-Army Tops Slate On Gridiron

The Associated Press
MANY college football coaches kept their eyes on infirmity bulletin boards today as the Asian fly bug sent players to bed and threatened to put several teams in low gear for this week's games.

While there were some cancellations of games, most major teams were reported ready to carry on—the most notable example being Notre Dame.

The Fighting Irish, with six regulars and two second stringers stricken, were to resume their ancient rivalry with Army Saturday at Philadelphia after a lapse of 10 years.

Half of the 50-man Nebraska team, due to fly to Pittsburgh to meet the Panthers Saturday, was affected.

Cancelled
Games in Pennsylvania between Lafayette and Delaware, Kutztown and Trenton Teachers, Moravian and Juniata, and Clarion State Teachers and Brockport, N. Y. State Teachers were cancelled. Also cancelled was Beloit versus Illinois Normal.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, reported its all-America halfback candidate Clendon Thomas was expected to see some action against Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Thomas spent three days in bed this week. Coach Darrell Royal said most of the Texas team had the "sniffles" during the week, but he expected most of the players to be ready.

The major clash in the Big Ten Conference brings together Michigan State and Michigan, ranked No. 2 and No. 6 this week. In other games to be watched with interest by the experts, Duke (No. 5) meets Rice (No. 15) in a night contest, Arkansas (No. 11) plays Baylor, Navy hopes to regain some lost prestige against California and Stanford and Washington State play an important Pacific Coast conference game.

The Friday night schedule is headed by North Carolina, winner over Navy, at the Orange Bowl against Miami. Others include Missouri and Southern Methodist, Georgia and Tulane, The Citadel and Wofford, and George Washington (reporting flu cases) versus the Air Force Academy.

TV Games
The regional TV games (NBC) will be aired, all starting at 2 p.m. local time—Army and Notre Dame in the East, Ohio State and Illinois at Columbus, and UCLA versus Washington at Los Angeles.

Yankee Crying Towels 'Sell'

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Minutes after the Milwaukee Braves scored four runs in the third inning of the final World Series game with the New York Yankees, concessionaires began hawking "Yankee crying towels" to the customers.

They were made of cloth and carried such printed legends as "It shouldn't happen to us," and "Wait till next year." They did a brisk business at 50 cents each.

Reserve Units Hold Key Position

FT. MONROE, Va., Oct. 10.—Recent reductions in the Active Army's strength make it imperative that the mobilization readiness of the Army Reserve be improved.

That's the word from U.S. Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe, Va., which is responsible for training the Active Army and Army Reserve in the Continental United States.

CONARC has issued instructions to Army commanders designed to improve the mobilization readiness of the Reserve. These instructions were motivated by numerous factors, including: 1—300,000 man limitation on paid drill spaces. 2—Need to integrate in units the trained manpower represented by the graduates of the six-months program and by returnees from the Active Army who have a participation obligation.

The measures directed by the Commanding General, CONARC, include a program of inactivation of ineffective units and a continual qualitative breeding of United States Army Reserve units to insure that the available spaces are filled by the best trained and motivated officers and enlisted men.

The unit inactivation program is designed to eliminate from pay status those units progress indicates that the community in which the unit is located cannot support the unit at a strength level which will allow the unit to conduct effective training.

Each low strength unit will be evaluated to determine its potential for development into an effective unit upon mobilization. No set strength figure has been established as a criterion for inactivation. Each unit will be considered upon its own merits.

The availability of training centers and facilities, such as armories, will be factors in the determination. Spaces made available from inactivation of units will be re-allocated among other units with a view to increasing their mobilization potential.

The recommendations of USAR division commanders will be considered in the implementation of this program.

The program of the qualitative improvement of the units will be based on a general tightening of drill attendance standards, branch and job qualification, physical standards and mental qualifications.

Stock Market Dives To Low Mark

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The stock market took its steepest dive in two years today on the heaviest volume of the year. Prices sank to their lowest on average since April 1935.

Key stocks were hammered down from 1 to 9 points in vigorous selling and on a broad front. All major divisions suffered and more individual issues were traded than on any previous day of 1937.

Based on the fall in the average there was an estimated drop of about five billion dollars in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Accumulation
No single piece of bad news accompanied the slump but rather an accumulation of discouraging notes from various fields, brokers said. The nation's biggest railroad, the Pennsylvania, floundered some 4,000 workers, cutting long traffic. Other layoffs and cutbacks, the high inventories in the oil industry and continued ominous conditions in the Middle East were cited.

A sharp break in earnings by Illinois Central was a factor in a decline by leading rails to their lowest point on average since September 1934.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $4.00 to $139.70, with the industrials down $6.00, the rails down $4.30 and the utilities down 70 cents—putting all components down to new 1937 lows.

The 1,223 issues traded made it the second worst market since Dec. 31. There were 993 declines and 90 advances; 424 new lows for the year and only 2 new highs. Northwest Airlines preferred and Penick & Ford.

Fourteen of the 15 most active stocks fell and one was unchanged.

Most Active
Boeing was the most active stock, off 1 1/2 to 29 1/2 at 50.100 shares. Second was Standard Oil (New Jersey), off 1 1/2 to 53 1/2. Third was U. S. Steel, off 1 1/2 to 55 1/2 at 42,000 shares.

Next came General Motors, off 1/4 to 39 1/2, and Baltimore & Ohio, off 1/4 to 43 1/2. Pennsylvania Railroad was one of the most active issues and down 1/2 to a new 1937 low of 16 1/2. Gulf Oil fell 9/16 to 107 1/2. Amerada 5/16 to 100.

Prices also slumped on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1,040,000 shares compared with 660,000 yesterday. Corporate bonds dropped sharply in the year's heaviest turnover. U. S. Government bonds were steady with a tendency toward the upside.

Examination Program Set

HARRISBURG, Oct. 10.—A combined examination program in which more than 450 applicants for positions as chemists, X-ray technicians, occupational therapists, accountants and auditors will participate has been scheduled in 11 Pennsylvania cities tomorrow, according to State Civil Service Commission Director Ralph D. Tive.

Examinations scheduled on Saturday are being held for the purpose of establishing eligibility lists for use in making appointments in many state departments and to provide for the qualification of persons presently working in these classes, Tive explained.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1937

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Single out important matters and conclude them prior to weekend relaxing. Success is possible where others fear to try. If you apply yourself constructively, you will succeed.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Employ your talents judiciously. Maintain even balance, concentrate effort, and determination, good cheer. You can achieve much now.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Care advised in financial dealings, personal investments, matters involving family security. Beware of loss on non-essentials. Be cognizant of the weaknesses of the opposition, take honest advantage when you are able.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Mixed influences. Carefully make your way, pressing for leadership when openings occur. Do not let past disappointments deter you from going forward with enthusiasm, persevere.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Be up to date, progressive. Do not try to live on past accomplishments; aim to record new, better ones. With your originality, you can give much better than a mediocre effort.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Get a prompt start and follow through with continuous activity, always keeping your goals in sight. Try the supposedly "impossible" if worthwhile. Acquire your inherent ability to conquer obstacles.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Make no radical changes in your life. Research; consider values. Be content to make normal gain during this somewhat mixed period.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Mild influences—except for matters pertaining to the sea, oil, chemicals, beverages, medicines, new inventions. These need checking. A responsive period for research, study, seeking.

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius)—A friendly day on the whole. All household affairs, interests wisely planned and scheduled can show gain.

December 1 to January 31 (Capricorn)—An intriguing, challenging day. Don't let good offerings go by unheeded. Grasp them and put them to use. Day favors all who are unhampered by old habits.

January 1 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Truly promising aspects take honest advantage, and tomorrow should be splendid for improving the quality—and quantity—of your efforts. No day falls.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—A little with patience and contentment may have to serve at the moment, but be ready with fresh plans a few days from now. Work, sound good entertainment, hobbies.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You born today have wonderful potential, variety of fresh characteristics, a wholesome outlook on life generally. You are not easily dissatisfied at setbacks; will try, try again and again. A grand spirit of courage to those who cannot easily defend themselves. You have the qualities needed to achieve a high place in business, in professions, or as a skilled worker in kind, in pleasures, eating, drinking and working. Keep usefully busy and you will go far.

Agriculture Agent Set For Pike County

JOSEPH L. Staley, Honesdale, associate county agent in Wayne County, has been promoted to county agent and on Nov. 1 becomes county agent of Pike County as successor to William H. Davis, retired.

A member of the Pennsylvania State University agricultural extension staff since March 16, 1946, Staley first was named an assistant county agent and assigned to Wayne and Lackawanna counties. Since 1948 he has served full time in Wayne County, and on Dec. 1, 1954 was raised to associate agent.

In announcing his appointment as county agent in Pike County, Dr. H. R. Albrecht, extension director at Penn State, said Staley's experience in extension work and his acquaintance with the agriculture of the area assure that the work in Pike County will continue without interruption.

Staley has been active in all phases of extension work and twice was chairman of the Northeast regional 4-H dairy show at Tunkhannock. He also served as assistant director of 4-H Camp Brule, near Dushore, Maryland.

Native of Knoxville, Md., he prepared for college at Brunswick, Md., High School, was graduated in agriculture from University of Maryland in 1933. He farmed at home for a year, and for the next five years did service and sales work for the American Chemical Co. in the Middle Atlantic area.

He accepted appointment to the staff of Baltimore Production Credit Corp. and was assistant secretary-treasurer of its Richmond, Va., office when he entered military service during World War II. He served from 1943 to 1945 in the European theater with the 3rd and 9th Armies as a corporal.

Staley completed a special training course in 4-H Club work and communications in 1954 at Cornell University. He is a member of the Pennsylvania County Agents. He is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity; and the Masonic lodge. Active in church work, he also has taught in Sunday School.

He is married to the former Miss Edna Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keller, Chambersburg. They have two children, Martha Elaine, 10, and Ira "Mac" McDuell Staley, seven. His father, the late Ira M. Staley, was a Knoxville, Md., farmer.
